Career Center Tip

Why should I volunteer?

Community service is when you work for free to help benefit the public or your community.

Volunteering makes a big difference in college admissions. Colleges like seeing that students have done community service. Keep in mind that most universities want to admit students who are actively involved in activities that better themselves, and eventually, will better the world.

Volunteering can help you find a career.

When you volunteer, you get to see a workplace and get involved. You can find out if you like something before you even go to college.

Volunteering isn't just good for your mind and conscience; it's also good for your body. A study shows that 76% of people who have volunteering in the past 12 months report that volunteering has made them happier, and 94% report that it improves their mood.

Where can I find volunteer opportunities?

- Your Community Center
- Animal Shelters
- Nursing Homes
- Food Banks
- Places of worship
- Libraries
- Ask your teachers, or visit the Career Center.
